Civil Rights Program Passes First Turn in Road to Enactment

Two Congressional Committees Complete Hearings on Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's civil rights program has passed the first turn in the long, winding road toward enactment—completion of lengthy hearings by two congressional committees.

The committees are expected to start writing their bills soon.

The prospect in the House is that the floor battle over civil rights legislation won't be joined until after Labor Day. The outlook in the Senate is even cloudier.

The House Judiciary Committee concluded three months of hearings on the President's seven-point program Friday while the Senate Commerce Committee was winding up five weeks of hearings on one plank—a bill to prohibit racial discrimination in places of public accommodations.

Quicker Action

The accommodations section was separated from the rest of the program in the Senate in an effort for quicker action than could be expected from the Senate Judiciary Committee, long the burial ground for civil rights measures. The committee has been holding hearings on the other points with no sign of a wind-up in view.

Rusk Flying to Sign Nuclear Test Ban Pact

Seeks to Find if Treaty Will Lead To Lasting Peace

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk winged to Moscow today to sign a nuclear test-ban treaty and to try to learn if "it will prove to be the first of a series of steps leading toward peace."

Before leading a 12-man American delegation aboard the Russian-bound military jet airliner Friday night, Rusk told newsmen at Andrews Air Force Base, Md.: "This treaty is an important one. We hope it will prove to be the first of a series of steps leading toward peace. But that we cannot tell for certain. There's much unfinished business ahead of us. Perhaps during this visit we shall find out. We hope so."

Rusk expects to find it out in talks with Premier Khrushchev and other Soviet officials after the ceremonial signing of the treaty Monday.

While the test-ban negotiations were still under way in Moscow, Khrushchev proposed other steps for easing East-West tensions.

Senators Join Party

Rusk hopes the Russians will spell out precisely what Khrushchev had in mind in his suggestions for a nonaggression pact, stationing of inspectors on each side of the Iron Curtain to prevent a sneak attack, freezing or reducing military budgets, and reducing forces in Germany.

Accompanying Rusk to the treaty ceremony were half a dozen senators—four Democrats and two Republicans. Rusk noted it will be up to the Senate to ratify the agreement to ban all nuclear tests except those underground.

U. S. Demands Communists Curb; Marauders; Charge Reds With Bloody Terror

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—Amid reports of new fighting on the uneasy Korean truce line, the U.N. Command warned today that Communist North Korea must curb its "bloodthirsty marauders" immediately or it will invite its own destruction.

Maj. Gen. George H. Cloud, senior delegate from the U.N. Command on the armistice commission, charged the North Koreans with deliberate, malicious assaults in U.N.-controlled territory which have killed three Americans and wounded a fourth since July 29.

North Korea brushed aside the charges as "fabrications" in one of the hottest exchanges in 10 years of armistice commission meetings.

Earlier Cloud said Communist troops had intruded into the U.N. Command portion of the demilitarized zone at 4:30 a.m. today and fresh firing had broken out between American and Communist troops.

No Casualties

Cloud said the clash had taken place about 500 yards south of the military demarcation line running through the center of the demilitarized zone. He did not elaborate and mentioned no casualties.

An American officer told newsmen outside the armistice meeting that he had thrown eight hand grenades in the latest reported clash. He said an American patrol had been flanked in the fighting and forced to withdraw.

From this officer's account, it appeared there were no casualties on either side.

Cloud, a Marine, said 50 Soviet-made cartridge cases had been found at the scene along with an unexploded Soviet-type grenade. Two hand grenades exploded, he said.

'Route of Terror'

The U.N. side called the armistice commission meeting to accuse the Communists of a series of provocations that began July 29 when a U.N. jeep was ambushed in U.N. territory. Two Americans were killed and a third wounded.

The next day a fourth American soldier and a South Korean policeman were killed in a clash directly south of the first ambush. Four North Korean soldiers were slain in this encounter.

Cloud called the incidents a "turn to Page 5, Col. 1"

Reynolds Sees Civil Rights As Key Issue

Will be Center of Dispute When State Legislature Meets

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Gov. John W. Reynolds predicted Friday that civil rights would be one of the areas of major dispute when the State Legislature reconvenes Nov. 4.

"There is a semblance of race discrimination in some Wisconsin industries and residents are entitled to better laws," said the Democratic chief executive at a news conference.

Reynolds promised that he would personally renew efforts for civil rights legislation and that his office would submit a new fair housing bill.

Not a Charge

"Segregated housing is a statement of fact, not a charge," Reynolds commented. "Discrimination in employment is also a fact."

He defended as necessary the survey of firms which the State Industrial Commission has undertaken to find out whether Negroes are being hired.

Reynolds said it takes an educated citizenry to understand that because a firm is being investigated, it in no way means the company is guilty of discrimination.

He said that it must be made clear to personnel managers that "there is a law that must be carried out."

Switching to the reapportionment problem, the governor said his special counsel will submit a redistricting plan to the State Supreme Court on Monday. He said the plan would give Milwaukee County 26 Assembly seats, two more than it has now.

Reapportionment Budget, Taxes Top Legislative Issues

State Lawmakers May Face Long Fall Session to Resolve Problems

BY RICHARD BRAUTIGAN
MADISON (AP)—An exhausting fight over a state budget, taxes and reapportionment highlighted the long initial session of the 1963 Wisconsin Legislature.

The three time-consuming issues shoved some other controversial questions into the background—and into what may be an extended fall meeting.

On the other hand, a number of important measures were approved because no partisan questions were attached.

That was true of a massive revision of laws relating to business transactions, embodied in the model commercial code passed and sent to the governor.

The same could be said for a revision of the county forest crop laws under which more money is returned to the 27 counties involved and which assures continuance of the forests.

Drainage Laws

In the same category is a revision of drainage laws.

During the long session there were numerous controversial bills that did not directly affect the state's solvency or its operation. Nevertheless, some attracted widespread attention because they touched people more intimately than measures of greater import.

The Wolf River dam fight was one such issue. The result was passage of a bill prohibiting a state budget, taxes and reapportionment highlighted the long initial session of the 1963 Wisconsin Legislature.

Lawmakers made doubly sure of the prohibition with a second bill banning any new dams on the Wolf north of Outagamie County.

A new zoning law gives cities and villages authority over the use of land up to three miles from their limits. The maximum is cut in half for villages. Such zoning would have to be in cooperation with the towns affected and they could veto the action.

Educational Bills

Educational bills passed included those which repeal requirements for specific periods of instruction in required subjects; require schools to offer the pledge of Allegiance in grades 1-8 at least once a week; require schools to display the state flag; allow city vocational school systems to encompass the same territory as a city school system with approval of governments within the area; make vocational school students eligible for state loans; provide state aid for public school summer sessions; authorize the university to establish a school of fine arts; require a bachelor's degree to teach in public schools.

Seymour Man, 21, Dies While Water Skiing

OCONTO — A young Seymour man, discharged from the U. S. Air Force July 19, drowned late Friday afternoon while water skiing on Lee Lake, three miles north of Kelly Lake.

Robert Weyers, 21, was being pulled by a boat operated by James Weyers and his wife, the victim's brother and sister-in-law. The life preserver being worn by the victim apparently broke when he hit the water, Coroner Clarence MacMahon said.

The body was recovered at about 8 p.m. in about 35 feet of water. It was recovered by Sheriff Edward Coopman, Allan Kadleck of Spruce, Dan Coopman and MacMahon.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Weyers; three brothers, James, Ron and Terry; and three sisters, Mary Ann, Judy and Debra.

Funeral services will be Monday at 10 a.m. in St. John Catholic Church, Seymour. Friends may call at the Muehl Funeral Home, Seymour, after 2 p.m. Sunday. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

30 Killed in Uruguay Wreck

Blame Saboteurs For Derailing Passenger Train

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—At least 30 persons were killed and more than 100 injured Friday night in a passenger train derailment which the state-owned railroad said was staged by saboteurs.

The three-coach train, carrying 200 passengers, veered onto a siding at 45 miles an hour and smashed into freight cars parked at a fertilizer plant.

Crews worked through the night to rescue passengers trapped in the twisted coaches along the little-used siding in a suburb eight miles from Montevideo.

Juan C. Funes, president of Uruguay's National Railroad, said that "criminal hands forced the lock of the track points system" and held the switch open by placing stones between the rails and the switch lever, shunting the train onto the siding.

Another railroad official said the saboteurs also had placed heavy rocks on the tracks.

Pointed Wrong Way

Engineer Nestor Martinez said he had seen the switch was pointed the wrong way about 20 yards before the train reached the siding. He said he slammed on the brake but it was too late.

The coaches snapped from the locomotive and were smashed. The engine hurtled into the freight cars.

The siding turns off the main track at a sharp angle. Martinez said freight trains using the siding negotiate the turn at 10 miles an hour.

Bodies were taken to a nearby army barracks and morgues for identification.

Dr. Stephen Ward, Scandal Figure, Dies in London

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Stephen Ward died today still unaware he was convicted on two vice charges in Britain's biggest sex and political scandal of the 20th century.

His life ebbed away at 3:50 p.m. (9:30 a.m. EST) in a flower-filled but guarded room at St. Stephen's Hospital where he was rushed Wednesday suffering from a massive overdose of drugs.

Only death enabled the 50-year-old socially enabled and artist to prevent the law running its full course.

Ward was convicted of living off the earnings of two call girls, a charge which, if proven, would have resulted in a life sentence. He was also charged with procuring, a charge which, if proven, would have resulted in a life sentence.

Ward was a friend of Miss Keller, long a friend of Ward. She testified against him about her liaison with John D. Profumo, who resigned as secretary of war because of the scandal. Ward introduced the two.

Nab Astronaut on Speeding Charge

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Virgil I. Grissom, who received the world's acclaim for his suborbital flight at more than 170 miles an hour, is in trouble with the law for driving his sports car at 75 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone.

Grissom was arrested July 27 near Apopka by State Highway Patrol trooper W. R. McIntyre. McIntyre said he had clocked Grissom at 75 for two miles before stopping him.

Grissom paid a $20 fine last November for a similar speeding offense in Marianna.

The astronaut is expected to appear in court Aug. 12.

2 Deaths Bring State Highway Count to 456

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A collision in northern Wisconsin has taken two lives, raising the state's highway toll for 1963 to 456, compared with 345 on this date a year ago.

James Levy, 18, of Cumberland, and Aaron Tallman, 67, of Kenosha, were killed Friday night in the collision of their cars on the edge of a hill on Highway 27 about six miles south of Hayward. Three other persons in the Tallman car were injured.

Merle Tallman, 20, of Judgeville, was killed Friday night in a collision with a car on Highway 27 about 12 miles west of Madison. Gary Beckman, 19, of St. Louis, was killed Friday night when he fell from the cab of a truck and was run over by the truck wheels. The accident occurred on Chippewa County trunk H about three miles north of Stanley.

Adviser to Presidents

Former U.S. Official Admits Tax Evasion

NEW YORK (AP)—James M. Landis, adviser to presidents and outspoken critic of unethical practices by heads of government agencies, will be sentenced Aug. 30 on federal charges of not filing income tax returns from 1956-60, a period when his income was said to exceed $200,000.

Landis, 63, has paid the government $94,492, three-fourths of it the tax due and the rest penalty and interest.

He could draw as much as five years in prison.

U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau, who brought the case against Landis, is the son of former Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau Jr., a colleague of the defendant during the New Deal days of the 1930s.

Asked if Landis had paid his taxes before or after the government investigation of them, Morgenthau replied that prosecution usually does not result if delinquent taxes are paid before the Internal Revenue Service gets onto them.

The federal grand jury's five-count information against Landis was announced to the press only after Landis had been arraigned before U.S. Dist. Court Judge Edward C. McLean. McLean released Landis in his own custody on guilty pleas to each count.

McLean later called reporters to his office and handed them copies of the information. An assistant to Landis' attorney was in an anteroom with prepared statements.

In a statement read to the court, Landis' attorney, William Warren, dean of the Columbia University Law School, said his client had become an engaged in public affairs. He never got around to filing tax returns for the five years until after the IRS prompted him.

Trade Commission

Landis has worked the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Civil Aeronautics Board, and the wartime Office of Civilian Defense. He also was a member of the Federal Trade Commission.

Sees All Lutheran Churches As Members of Federation

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—All Lutheran churches eventually will be united within the Lutheran World Federation and this will "probably happen much faster than many think," a prominent German Lutheran leader predicts.

Much progress toward this goal has been made in recent years, Bishop Hanns Lilje of Hanover told a news conference.

"Some of the few important churches still outside the federation have taken big steps" toward entering it, he said.

The bishop did not name any of the churches. But it was noted that the powerful American Missouri Synod, with 2.5 million members, has for the first time sent observers to a federation assembly.

The Missouri Synod, which is not a federation member, sent 20 observers to the fourth assembly in session here until Aug. 11.

The federation embraces 73 churches in 38 countries, with membership of more than 52 million. Non-member churches total 122, with a membership estimated at 29 million.

The largest group outside the federation are the 12 German Union churches with a combined membership of about 22 million, of which about 15 million are reported to be Lutherans and the others Reformed.

Council of African Foreign Ministers Convenes in Senegal

DAKAR, Senegal (AP)—African foreign ministers convened Friday for the first time as the Ministerial Council of the new Organization for African Unity, founded two months ago in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

After naming Senegalese Foreign Minister Doudou Thiam chairman, the council recessed until Monday.

Absence of several key ministers in New York for the U.N. Security Council debate on South African apartheid, prompted the delay.

For Fun at a Party Play New Game of 'Challenge'

BY CAPPY DICK
The next time you give a party for your crowd, play the game of "Challenge."
At the outset, you place six pieces of cardboard on the floor. The top side of each card bears a number as shown in Figure 1. On the opposite side of each card a challenge is printed.
As each party guest arrives he must pick up one of the cards—any one of his choice, turn it over and read aloud the challenge that is printed there. He must meet the challenge by doing the example which is given on him. The performances that result can be very funny.

To illustrate the game, let the host in Figure 1 pick up Card No. 6. Turning it over he finds he is challenged to recite the alphabet backwards. You can think up challenges of your own, but additional examples are these:

"Whistle Yankee Doodle with Gestures," "Make a One-Minute Political Speech," "Imitate a Movie Star," "Tell How to Bake a Cake," and "Flap Your Arms and Crow Like a Rooster With a Sore Throat."
After a party guest has performed his challenge, the card is returned to the floor, number-side up, to await the arrival of another guest.

Allaire Quits Green Bay UCP Post

Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY — The resignation of James Allaire as Executive Director of United Cerebral Palsy of greater Green Bay was announced today by Sidney Glazer, President of the affiliate. The resignation was accepted by the unit's board of directors at a special meeting Thursday evening.

Glazer said that the UCP center at 714 S. Webster Ave. would continue in operation by another staff member until a successor to Allaire is chosen by the board of directors here in the near future. Physical therapy treatments will continue at the Green Bay clinic Tuesday and Thursday and at outlying centers Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Glazer said that present plans call for expansion of the physical therapy service at the UCP center through addition of a therapist and also through use of other forms of therapy available at other treatment centers in Green Bay.

Allaire became Executive Director of the Green Bay affiliate in March, 1958, coming here from a post as Regional Director of the Wisconsin UCP organization. At one time he was in the Green Bay school system in remedial teaching and testing. He also served as a psychologist at the southern Wisconsin colony and training school at Union Grove and was school psychologist for the Town of Lake, Milwaukee County. He also was Assistant Personnel Director and Training Supervisor for A and P Tea Co. in Wisconsin, Upper Michigan and Minnesota.

Allaire said he had no immediate plans for the future except "to take a month's vacation."

Recess Sidetracks Legislative Study Of County Boards

Motion by Sen. Lorge Cripples
Bill Sponsored by Froehlich

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The abrupt decision of the legislature to recess for the summer sidetracked efforts of civic leaders from the Fox River Valley and other populous counties to set up a special study commission to draft a population district plan of county board representation.

The assembly had endorsed the bill sponsored by Assemblyman Harold Froehlich, R-Appleton, and others, but the senate, on the motion of Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, added crippling amendments.

Knowing that refusal of the lower house to concur in the changes would kill the bill, the sponsors arranged to have final action postponed until the fall session of the legislature in the hope of working out an agreement with Lorge.

Interim Studies
Meanwhile, however, both houses of the legislature approved a resolution directing interim studies by the joint Legislative Council of a number of problems, including population districting of county boards, so that there is some assurance that the subject will be examined during the legislative interim.

The hope of the sponsors of the county board reform plan was for the creation of a separate study group, in order to get more public attention and solicit more public support for a plan that failed to muster significant support on a direct vote in the assembly earlier this year.

The council members and staff will be concerned about many studies and investigations in preparation for the regular 1965 legislative session.

The original Froehlich proposal specified a study on population representation only, and would have required an explicit report on the subject. The Lorge amendment would direct studies also on geographical area and according to municipal districts, and would eliminate the requirement for a specific report and recommendation.

Bus Schedules Being Prepared

Students of New London District to Begin School Classes on Aug. 29

NEW LONDON — All students of the New London Unified School district will start classes Aug. 29 except kindergarten students who will be registered on that date, according to Lloyd Qualley, Superintendent.

Registration for all high school students will be held at the high school Aug. 21 and junior high school students will register at the Lincoln School at the same time.

Kindergarten registration for city students and those of the north district will be held at the Assembly of God Church, 1726 Lawrence St. from 8:15 a.m. to 3 p.m. South district kindergarten students will register at the Medina School which is being reopened this year.

The city kindergarten classes will be held at both the Assembly of God Church basement and at the Emanuel Lutheran school basement.

Qualley said, moving the kindergarten classes out of Lincoln and Readfield schools was necessary to accommodate the crowded grade enrollment at both schools.

Bus schedules for all students who will be transported to school are presently being prepared, Qualley said.

Multiple Use Concept For Forests Stressed By Marathon Official

Speaker Says Science Will Keep Pace With Needs of Pulp, Paper Industry

AMASA, Mich. — Intensified application of this, he said, by the multiple-use concept of forest management and Forest Reserve Act that "help" proper economic incentive are essential needs of the pulp and paper industry, Russell C. Flom, president and assistant general manager of Marathon Division of American Can Co., said at a Thursday meeting of Michigan Tree Farmers.

While the projections indicate greatly increased needs for the pulp and paper industry in the future, there is little doubt, Flom pointed out, that technological progress in the industry, improved forest management practices, and scientific improvements in the genetics of growing trees will more than keep pace with these needs, unless large areas of productive forest lands are lost to other uses.

"This will be particularly true," he emphasized, "if the proper economic environment is maintained. It is essential, however, that the existing capital gains taxation of timberlands be maintained as an incentive to timberland owners to continue the programs that are now so productive."

Flom said that there is wide recognition of the need for the fact that within a few weeks of the time that the administration recommended the elimination of the capital gains treatment of timberlands, seven state legislatures passed bills providing for the continuation of the existing treatment.

Also, five state governors vetoed bills that would have eliminated the treatment of capital gains treatment of timberlands.

Flom said that the treatment of timberlands is a matter of concern to the timber industry, and that the industry is now in a position to pay taxes on the value of its timberlands.

Flom also stressed the need for understanding and aware of the long-term economic benefits of tree farming. The people of Michigan demonstrated their

Replaces GOP Leader

Reynolds Appointee May Not Win Approval

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Gov. John Reynolds probably will fail in his effort to dump the dean of the board of regents of state colleges, according to soundings in the Republican state senate which under the law must confirm the successor nominated by the governor.

The governor, McIntire, has announced his desire to have Ray J. Theisen, Eau Claire, widely known as a leader in the consumer cooperative movement, replace William D. McIntire, also a member of the state senate, as a member of the board which governs the rapidly growing state college system.

McIntire, a leading Republican and head of a baking company, is the senior member of the board, which has served two terms as a recent both of them by appointment of Republicans.

He served for many years as chairman of the board while the replacement would mean that all on the board would be expected to be in traction at the Clintonville Community hospital for several weeks.

Work to Curb Erosion Along Chilton River

CHILTON — The Manitowish River ponds created by a series of coffer dams have been drained to permit city crews to shore up badly washed out river banks, according to George Winkler, street committee chairman.

The dams were opened Tuesday night. On Wednesday morning the ponds were emptied downstream. A bulldozer was moved onto the scene Thursday to push huge boulders back against the river bank. They will be cemented into place to prevent further erosion and damage to the landscaped shoreline.

Sense Better Than Daring In Bridge

You sometimes see people carry on with business as usual even though their houses and shops are burning around them. This is very courageous, but not very sensible. The same distinction exists in certain bridge hands.

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the jack of hearts and courageously led the six of spades from dummy. The hand was about to blow up in his face, but South wasn't going to show the white feather.

East took the ace of spades and led another heart. Declarer led another trump to West's king, and back came a diamond to East's ace.

Now East led a third heart, and West's ruff defeated the contract. During all this time South never winced or showed any displeasure or pain. Very admirable.

Not so admirable if you insist on making a cold contract when you can.

After all, it isn't too hard for South to see the danger of a heart ruff. Why should he draw trumps as usual when this will give the opponents time to get their ruff?

Declarer should lead dummy's queen of diamonds instead of a trump at the second trick. He wins the heart return and cashes the king and jack of diamonds to discard two hearts from the dummy.

That takes all the hearts out of the dummy and guarantees the contract since dummy cannot be over-ruffed except by the ace or king of spades.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold: S-Q 8 6; H-A Q J 5; D-Q; C-A Q 9 4 2. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs. You can well afford to show the hearts later, thus indicating that the clubs are longer than the hearts. The hand is not quite strong enough for a jump response in either clubs or hearts. (Copyright, 1963)

The POWER of FAITH

By WOOD ISHMAEL

"But thou shalt remember the Lord Thy God: for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth, that he may establish his covenant . . ." Deuteronomy 8:18.

These Words Hold Special significance to R. Stanley Tam, president of the State Smelting and Refining Corp. of Lima, Ohio. In 1936, the young scientific minded Mr. Tam learned of a method of reclaiming the silver from photographic film emulsion that was washed down the drain in photographic laboratories.

His first venture to sell the process failed. Discouraged and disappointed, he prayed, "Lord, if you'll take the business and make it succeed, I will honor you in any way I possibly can."

By 1940 Stanley Tam turned over 51 per cent of the profits to missionary and church work. In 1950, 60 per cent was turned over; and in 1955, through a legal transaction, 100 per cent of the business went to the Lord's work, making him not owner but manager of the business.

The profits now go for the support of seven full time missionaries, and partial support of seven others. In addition, Mr. Tam travels some 30,000 miles a year in speaking engagements. He has made one trip around the world to speak and visit missions, and plans another. He and his wife made a similar trip to four countries in South America in 1955.

Mr. Tam's philosophy: "I came into this world without anything. I leave without anything. I create nothing. What God created I am only trustee of, and the material things I have are my pulpit."

Minister Tends Tourist Flock in National Park

BY PAUL ALBRIGHT
YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP)—The thousands of sunburned tourists pouring into this Wyoming wonderland of geysers, waterfalls and wildlife are finding a dedicated band of young persons striving to bring the teachings of Christ closer through the natural miracles around them. "We try to help the visitor see nature through the cross of Christ," explained the Rev. John A. Lee, 27, resident minister in the park. "Through religious help we want to make their leisure hours here as responsible and creative as their working hours at home."

The Rev. Mr. Lee, a Methodist, said he feels a challenge and satisfaction in tending the cares of the supposedly carefree tourist. He heads a group of 36 college and seminary students who are stationed around the vast park.

Each Sunday
Each Sunday through Labor Day, the "worker-witnesses" hold 18 interdenominational worship services. There are Bible schools, discussion groups and recreation programs during the weekdays at the eight most populous areas of Yellowstone.

The Rev. Mr. Lee termed the program of Christian work in the park a growing success. The program, now incorporated in most of the national parks, was started first at Yellowstone in 1951 by a group of Princeton seminarians working for the summer. Last summer 30,000 park visitors attended Sunday services. By far the biggest counseling activity is for the hundreds of summer employees—most of them college students.

The young Christian workers, selected by the National Council of Churches, put in a 48-hour work week, and their job is far more varied, rugged and, on occasion, distasteful than for average men of the cloth.

Ivory Tower
"When a minister has to empty garbage cans, he keeps out of the ivory tower," the Rev. Mr. Lee said. He explained when religious workers do the same camp chores as tourists, it is easier to remain on a equal footing with the mobile congregations.

While the program headed by the Rev. Mr. Lee is the largest, it is by no means the only religious work in Yellowstone. Two priests celebrate Catholic Masses in the park each week. No rabbis are scheduled in Yellowstone, but there are representatives of the Mormon, Christian Science and Seventh Day Adventist faiths.

The Rev. Mr. Lee's own group includes two major synods of Lutherans, Southern Baptists, American Baptists, Presbyterians, Methodists and Episcopalians.

Married Daughter Smokes to Point of Spitting Up Blood

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN: Our daughter is 26 years old, happily married, with four bright children. She has a beautiful home, and everything to live for.
Both her husband, her father and I are worried to death about her excessive smoking. She has been a heavy smoker since she was a teenager. Although she knew I never approved, she continued to smoke through the years.

Several months ago she was spitting up blood. She quit smoking and went to the doctor. When the X-rays showed no sign of cancer she went back to smoking two packs a day although the doctor advised her against it.

I'm afraid she will develop cancer that it's making a nervous wreck out of me. She says she has smoked so long now that if she's going to get cancer she will get it. Period. What can I say to this head-strong girl?—Worried Mother

Dear Mother: Probably nothing. Anyone who can read or hear knows by now that there is a definite link between lung cancer and cigarettes. Scientific research continues to churn up more and more damning evidence.

Not everyone who smokes will get lung cancer, obviously, and your daughter may escape it. But worrying has been known to bury people prematurely, so try to get your mind off her smoking and on something else.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: That letter describing the prom committee system which insures all girls a date to the Junior-Senior

From was the greatest. I'm going to take it up with our student council in September.
I happen to be a girl who never was short of dates, but I know some awfully nice girls who sit home all the time because they don't have sex appeal. Fellows won't even bother to ask them out and get to know how great they really are.
Thanks for printing that one, Ann. It was tops.—Jill
Dear Jill: I'm glad you wrote. Here's another point of view: DEAR ANN LANDERS: That letter about the prom committee

MADISON — The town board of the town of De Pere, Brown county, has petitioned the public service commission for additional protection at the crossing of state highway 29 and the Chicago and Northwestern Railway company tracks in the town.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Dear Gals:
For those of you who have bought these new hair dryers — portable type — with the big plastic hood — and find that after you remove them from the bag and try to place them over your head they are extremely stiff — I have the answer!
Before trying to put the plastic hood over your head, turn on your hair dryer and let the heat warm the plastic. All at once it will become soft and can be placed over your hair rollers and clips very easily.

Dear Heloise:
For your reader who wants to know how to remove coffee and tea stains from a tablecloth I take a few drops of household bleach in a small container and add about a teaspoon of tap water and dab directly on the white cloth before tossing it into my washing machine.

E.S.
Be sure to spot test your material first to see if it is colorfast if it is colored

Dear Heloise:
When I am in a hurry to feed the older children because my husband is late
I cut up steak in bite-size pieces and fry it in my deep fat fryer, right along with out French fried potatoes!
The children's dinner is just as hot and good as husband's and neither group has to settle for warmed over food or sandwiches as each batch or "order" may be cooked together

Sini Waite
If you like not too well done steak let the French fries start getting brown before dropping in the pieces of steak

Dear Heloise:
For those who put coffee or tea in a thermos bottle and find that eventually it ends up with dark brown sediment and stains which have collected
I fill bottle with hot water and add two teaspoons of liquid detergent. I shake this mixture in the morning 1 hour before I get up. I add an elegant touch to a dress gown which has collected coffee or buffet table with precious good wine and a lovely handmade jar.

I use the old-fashioned crochets set off by large stitch. Put in 300 count directions for the putting a little piece of washed cotton in 3 lengths No. 30 or 35.

Dear Heloise:
Whenever I empty a can of vegetable or fruit etc. I put the can on my drain board and use my putty knife to scrape out from the plates, used from the jars and anything that would mess up my garbage can.

When the can is full I close the lid which has not been completely cut off and put in my paper grocery bag which I keep in a small garbage can under my sink

Cereal boxes are also good to dispose of this kind of garbage as they are lined with waxed paper and do not leak

Dear Heloise:
I remove stitch and needle marks from my materials by dipping a pressing cloth in club soda and wringing it out well. This also removes stubborn creases from woollens when letting down hems

Dear Heloise:
I keep my baby's bed dry all night and his outside clothing too by putting two pair of plastic pants on him over his "night" diapers. It is worth the extra wash you have because you can save on clothes and bedding

Q. I found some fine old cut glass pieces in my parents' attic. They are very soiled. What is the best way to clean cut glass?
A. Clean cut glass in a hot detergent solution using a soft brush to remove stubborn dirt. Then rinse in clean hot water and allow to drain dry or dip in jeweler's sand.

Q. We have a great many lady bugs inside our vacation home. They are mostly around the windows. Are they harmful? How can we get rid of them?
A. Lady bugs do no harm to the house. In fact, they are considered beneficial insects in the garden. Many insecticides available in pet stores are effective in getting rid of these bugs. But it is much better to leave them alone.

Joint Orientation Set For 5 School Systems

Nationally-Known Educator to Speak at Meeting Aug. 29 at Appleton High School

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, a nationally-known educator and speaker, will address the faculties of the Appleton, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Neenah and Menasha public school systems at a joint meeting during orientation week. The meeting, scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Aug. 29 at Appleton High School will mark the first time the five school systems have cooperated in an orientation week program. Appleton, Neenah and Kaukauna held a joint session last year.

About 900 teachers are expected to hear Dr. McFarland, who was a prominent school executive in Kansas for 24 years and now is educational consultant and guest lecturer for General Motors Corp. and the American Trucking Association.

Final plans are being completed for the orientation week schedule for the 425 Appleton public school teachers. The program is set up on more of a workshop basis this year, as a result of suggestions from teachers, according to Supt. of Schools Royce E. Kurtz.

The program will open Aug. 27. New teachers will meet at Morgan School in the morning for a mixer and welcomes from the president of the board of education and the superintendent. Experienced teachers will use the day for planning and preparation.

Sewer Projects On Schedule

Council Committee 'Well Satisfied' by Progress of Work

Appleton's million dollar - plus storm and sanitary sewer construction program, the most ambitious in the city's history, is right on schedule.

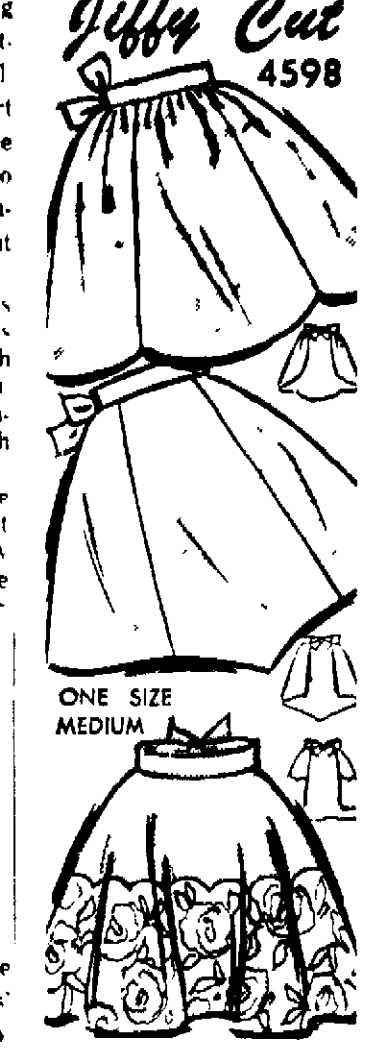

The report was made Thursday night during an informal meeting of the common council's street-sanitation committee at city hall. Public Works Director Robert W. Bues informed the committee the city had many projects to complete during the current construction season and warned that "time is running out."

"We have had it as far as adding any more projects to this year's program," Ald. Kenneth Loos (3rd) committee chairman said today. He indicated the committee was "well satisfied" with the progress.

"It also appears the city will be able to get the major Walnut Street sewer project underway by this September," Loos said. The work will continue through the winter.

Installation of new sewer mains in various parts of the city is expected to eliminate chronic flooding which has plagued neighborhoods and some business areas for years.
While no formal action was taken at the meeting, Loos indicated the committee also discussed the city's trash collection program and would have recommendations to make when it holds its regular meeting Monday afternoon.

Report From the North V

Population Boom in State Could Destroy Recreational Facilities

BY CHARLES HOLBE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The population explosion taking place in Wisconsin as elsewhere will swallow nearly one million acres of the state's remaining rural areas in the next 15 years, according to statistical projections.

If such developments trudge on in normal ways, Wisconsin will be the loser instead of the gainer. They will create bedroom communities near urban centers which will shrink the great outdoors with hasten commercial slum areas and will stimulate pollution, siltation and land erosion. Furthermore, it will remove from the state's areas of outdoor recreation facilities.

Ultimately it could create an urban monster like that which exists now in northeastern Illinois which has already eaten up so much of the rural out of doors that there is insufficient space to provide even minimum standards for outdoor recreation.

Even now in the state of Wisconsin, most of the trout streams in the southern and southwestern parts have been polluted and silted beyond repair. Already the lower Fox River, once termed beautiful and teeming with fish, has been lost to the state for recreational purposes.

Public beaches in some cities are no longer usable because of pollution and sewage. The city playgrounds are diminishing.

Fifth of a Series

ing Solitude and space are becoming scarcely attainable. Forty years hence, Wisconsin's population will be double its present number.

Yet Wisconsin seeks to attract the tourist, the vacationer, the fisherman, the hunter, the camper, the boatmen and the many others who annually spend $581 million for recreation or for peace and quiet.

Twenty years from now, according to projected estimates, Wisconsin will export 123 million visits from recreation-seeking nonresidents alone.

The recreation industry in Wisconsin which now suffers financially from the short vacation period of summertime—about 90 days—appears unable to modernize to rebuild and to refurbish present facilities which are outmoded unattractive and old. Yet the American tourist is demanding more comfort more elegance more modernity from his vacationland hosts.

Most Popular Forms

According to surveys the most popular forms of outdoor recreation

Water skiing has grown phenomenally since 1945 and will continue to grow. In 1961 some 3,000 boats were used in Wisconsin for water skiing. There were an estimated 180,000 water ski visits here and 63,000 (35 per cent) of them were made by nonresidents. The number of water ski visits could grow to almost eight million by the year 2000.

Projects Planned

What to do about this? How can the lucrative vacation industry be saved and controlled and improved in the years to come?

In 1959 the state legislature created a Department of Resource Development now headed by Frank P. Zeidler, former mayor of Milwaukee. Intense and revealing studies have been made for the Wisconsin State Plan and $50 million has been earmarked for improvement research and development as well as land acquisition over the next 10 years. Among the specifications for the expenditures of that sum:

Purchase and development of state parks and recreation areas, provision of necessary easements and maintenance.

Purchase and development of fish and game habitats.

Development of youth conservation camps.

Provision of scenic easements along the highways.

Creation of new lakes (almost 600 can be "manufactured") under the Federal Watershed program.

Provide funds as state aids to help counties which own lands under the Forest Crop Law to develop recreational facilities.

Creation of additional tourist information centers.

Planning for future projects and priorities.

Survey of the Lake Superior region's recreational facilities.

Plans for new and accelerated planning and action programs and the stimulation of sound business development by tourist industry entrepreneurs.

The functions of the Department of Resource Development is said to be the dawning of a new era in the state but it can take All-Stars and Farm add-on two place only through the efforts and aspirations of the local people.

Luebke and Mike Pavant led the supported by state and national Gophers with two apiece.

Midget Stars Beat League Champions

NEENAH — The Midget Softball League All Stars downed the champion Gophers 8.5 in the first game of their series Thursday afternoon.

The winners scored five runs in the fifth inning and three in the sixth. The Gophers made three in the second and two in the third.

Snyder tallied three hits for the All-Stars and Farm add-on two place only through the efforts and aspirations of the local people.

Luebke and Mike Pavant led the supported by state and national Gophers with two apiece.

Cudget, Taxes Major Legislative Issues

The schools beginning with 1972. Among the 1,447 bills introduced were many that occupied the headlines for a while, then died. The lost causes included one by Sen. Davis Donnelly, D-Eau Claire, to allow welfare agencies to give birth control information and devices to married and single women. Any legislative support that Donnelly may have expected vanished in the face of opposition at a public hearing and no more was heard of the measure.

Butler, Oleo

In Wisconsin's recurring battle of butter versus oleo, the higher priced spread won a 49-43 decision. That was the vote by which the Assembly killed a bill that would have repealed the state oleo tax. A 54-50 vote then rejected a bill to permit the sale of colored oleo.

Also on the list of losers were bills that proposed:

Redemption of trading stamps in merchandise as well as cash, an additional month of daylight saving time, and a ban on boxing.

A major battle to raise the state's minimum beer drinking age ended in a draw. The main bill setting a higher statewide beer drinking age didn't get through, but a measure prohibiting the sale or purchase of carry-out beer by persons under 21 was signed into law.

In addition to other penalties, the approved measure requires courts to suspend the driving privilege of youths convicted of illegally buying carry-outs.

Liquor Bills

Liquor bills that passed permit taverns to remain open during hours of voting on election days and allow an individual to bring in from a foreign country one gallon of liquor without paying a state tax.

The Ellers-Olsen scrap that opened the 1963 Assembly session heralded numerous Democratic-Republican battles to come.

Earl Ellers, D-Trevel, claimed Kenosha County's Second District Assembly seat by virtue of an election recount and two court decisions. He was seated. But Russell Olson, R-Bassett, the incumbent, claimed counting of disputed ballots would re-elect him. The Republican controlled Assembly acted on Olson's request, ruled in his favor, and ousted Ellers.

The switch touched off Democratic charges of a political foul. Civil rights legislation found rough going in the Legislature, with most of the adverse action concentrated in the Assembly.

Three proposals were killed in the Assembly, including a bill championed by the governor to ban discrimination in housing.

The partially successful measure would authorize counties to establish human relations agencies to educate people in human rights and require courses in human rights in public schools.

Blue Cross

Both houses passed a bill to allow Blue Cross to expand its hospital care program to include coverage for drugs and nursing services.

A resolution approved asks Congress to implement a nationwide "open cities" plan that would see a massive exchange of visitors between the United States and Russia.

As part of the continuing dispute on state aid for private schools, the Legislature adopted a resolution to change the Constitution so public money may be used to transport parochial pupils. The resolution must be approved by the 1965 Legislature and in a referendum to become effective.

Passed and signed into law was a bill authorizing the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board to name a fact finding panel in municipal labor disputes on the joint request of the municipality and its employees.

Voting Machines

Under another new law, all cities and villages over 10,000 population must install voting machines by the fall of 1966.

Ineptitude marked a bill to change the name of the State Department of Agriculture, and it was killed. Opponents quickly noted that using the alphabetical designation for the suggested new name — Department of Agriculture, Food and Trade—gave this result—DAFT.

Mixed up in legislation that stirred currents of statewide interest were bills that only caused ripples.

Thus, passage was given to bills that removed "go," "caution," and "stop" from traffic signal lights, repealed the right of women to avoid jury duty on request, and eliminated the requirement that out of state barbers have an eighth grade education to get a Wisconsin license.

First Storm Of Season Still at Sea

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Arlene, the first of the season, whipped the tropical Atlantic with winds of 100 miles an hour today, but caused little damage.

She was 925 miles east-southeast of San Juan, P.R., a safe distance from densely inhabited islands and heavily traveled shipping lanes.

One small craft reported itself in trouble north of Puerto Rico, but at last check she was being escorted to port by a Coast Guard vessel.

At dawn, the Weather Bureau said Arlene was moving west-northwest at 12 m.p.h.

Winds up to 100 miles per hour whirled around a small area near the center and gale force winds extended 175 miles in the northern semicircle and 75 miles in the southern semicircle.

"Little change in size or intensity of the storm is expected during the next 12 to 24 hours," the Weather Bureau said.

Hurricane hunters flew into the vortex of the storm from Puerto Rico and continued observations at close range through the night.

The storm was days away from the United States and its eastern edge was too early to spur speculation on whether it would ever strike land.

The forecast added that because of the shifting interest of the United States in the welfare of the Cuban people, the agency will continue to support a military evacuation project and a food program under which had spent two days undergoing tests. He had collapsed during an Eastern singing tour.

His doctor's diagnosis: exhaustion. His recommendation: rest for six to eight weeks.

Good Sense to Avoid Barbiturate Addiction

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. brain. They slow down motor activity. They cause drowsiness, loss of coordination, and in some cases, loss of consciousness.

Dear Dr. Molner: We hear constantly — physical movement. They slowly but surely cause addiction. Can larger doses, they put one to sleep — other things being equal.

They can counteract too much muscular tension, such as in epilepsy, and other states. They can be used for years on end, in proper amount as sleeping pills — if one knows and observes "proper amount."

Barbiturates enter all the tissues of the body — for one in instance, if a pregnant woman habitually uses them, they can pass through the placenta and reach the blood of the infant. As delivery, this can cause a "sleepy baby" — one that may be coaxed into sleep with difficulty to start breathing.

However, barbiturates do not damage the brain in the sense of permanent damage. Excessive use can keep a person dull mentally. As a result, the brain is not able to function properly.

A person who uses barbiturates for a long time, and who has developed a tolerance, will find that a single dose will no longer produce the same effect as it once did. This is because the body has adapted to the drug and now requires a larger dose to achieve the same effect.

But let's get this straight. There is no such thing as a "safe" dose of barbiturates. The only safe dose is the one that does not cause addiction. The only safe dose is the one that does not cause mental dullness.

But let's get this straight. There is no such thing as a "safe" dose of barbiturates. The only safe dose is the one that does not cause addiction. The only safe dose is the one that does not cause mental dullness.

The barbiturates are not "killer" drugs. They are not to be feared. They are simply drugs that, if used properly, can be very helpful. But if used improperly, they can be very dangerous.

North Koreans Handed Stern U.S. Warning

Communist "route of terror and bloodshed."

Then he warned: "If it is not your side's intention to destroy itself, I demand that you take the following actions without delay:

"1. Prevent your bloodthirsty marauders from entering our portion of the DMZ (demilitarized zone) and the territory under the control of our side.

"2. Take immediate steps to keep your murdering handiwork under control and on your side of the military demarcation line.

"3. Punish severely all those killers of your side who participated in these intrusions, ambushes and murders.

"4. Punish those leaders of your side who planned and ordered such bestial, unprovoked actions.

"5. Begin complying with every provision of the armistice agreement which your side has so flagrantly violated for over 10 years.

Not Without Limits

"The patience of the people of Korea, the U.N. Command and the world is not without limits. I demand that your side provide positive assurances that those provocations will cease and that your side will begin to comply with the armistice agreement," signed July 27, 1953.

Gen. Chong Hwang, the North Korean delegate, said his side had investigated the charges, which he called "fabrications."

Cloud later put two Soviet-made submachine guns and two automatic pistols on the conference table and said they had been taken from the North Korean raiders.

The Communist delegation placed on the table three automatic rifles, a walkie-talkie radio and photographs of men they said were South Korean agents captured in the North.

Chong again refused to discuss the return of American Capt. Ben W. Suits of Florence, Ala., and Charleston W. Valtz of Frankfurt, Mich. Their helicopter was shot down over Communist territory May 17.

Hendley Hurls Shutout

Braves, Mets Split

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Rob Hendley was a last-minute starter, took only a brief warmup and then hurled the Milwaukee Braves to a 6-0 triumph over the New York Mets in the opening of a two-night doubleheader Friday evening.

Bob Sadowski and Galen Cisco duelled to a 1-1 tie through 10 innings in the nightcap, but the Mets won it 3-1 in the 11th by pushing over a pair of runs at the expense of reliever Bob Shaw.

Hendley was pressed into duty after Warren Spahn, scheduled to pitch the first game, suffered a new outbreak of elbow trouble and decided he couldn't do the job.

Hendley gave up only four hits in taking his sixth victory in 14 decisions. He fanned five Mets and walked a half-dozen. The loss was taken by Al Jackson, the first of three New York hurlers. He's now 6-14.

Jacks last night only four and one-third innings, allowing all of the Braves runs and all of their 10 hits. The Milwaukee attack included home runs by Eddie Mathews, Joe Torre and Hank Aaron.

A single by Denis Menke, who got to second on a passed ball, and a double by Aaron gave the Braves a run in the first. They got another in the second as Lee Maye walked and scored on Frank Bolling's double to right.

The Braves added three in the third as Mathews hit his 14th homer after Menke had walked and Torre followed with his ninth home run.

The Braves finished their run production in the fifth, with Menke and Mathews singling ahead of Aaron's 31st homer.

The Mets' victory in the nightcap was only their fifth in their last 34 games and their second in their last 26 road games. Cisco and Sadowski duelled on even terms for the 10 innings they were employed. Ken Mackenzie pitched the 11th for the Mets, preserving Cisco's seventh victory against nine defeats. Shaw took the loss and is 4-9.

Richardson, Grim Slam Homers in Error-Filled Tilt

BURLINGTON, Ia. — Pounding out 18 base hits, the Fox Cities Foxes defeated Burlington, 13-9, in an error-filled Midwest League game here Friday night.

Burlington committed nine errors in the field and the Foxes added two miscues.

Tonight the Foxes move over to Clinton to meet the Midwest League leaders in a 2-game set. The Foxes trailed, 9-8 after six innings of play and then came back with five runs in the last three frames. Jim Barrier came in and did an effective job of stopping the Bees through the seventh, eighth and ninth.

Ted Richardson and Ron Stone accounted for half of the Foxes' hit output. Richardson went 5-for-5 slugging a home run and four singles. He was walked in.

The Braves finished their run production in the fifth, with Menke and Mathews singling ahead of Aaron's 31st homer.

The Mets' victory in the nightcap was only their fifth in their last 34 games and their second in their last 26 road games. Cisco and Sadowski duelled on even terms for the 10 innings they were employed. Ken Mackenzie pitched the 11th for the Mets, preserving Cisco's seventh victory against nine defeats. Shaw took the loss and is 4-9.

'Vandy', Richter Combine To Lead Win Over Packers

Crowd of 65,000 Watches College All-Stars Pull 20-17 Upset Over World Champs

BY ART DALEY

Post-Crescent News Service

CHICAGO — The Green Bay Packers were beaten by a hometown boy... and perhaps the sting of defeat doesn't hurt so much. Ron VanderKelen, the pride of Preble and the University of Wisconsin, hurled the 1963 College All Stars to an upsetting 20-17 victory over the world champion Packers before 65,000 in Soldier's Field and a television audience of 60 million.

VanderKelen, nursed on Packer football as a youngster, and Pat Richter, his favorite receiver in the Badgers' Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl campaigns last year, combined for a 73-yard scoring bomb in the last three minutes to give the stars a 20-10 lead.

The Packers roared back and scored in the final three seconds but it was too late. The gun ended the game on the next kickoff as lightning flashed in the west. Vandy played the entire first half, which ended 10-10, replacing Glynn Griffing for one play in the third quarter and then returned for the payoff drive in the last quarter.

The All Stars were good. One of the best teams in the 30-year history of the midsummer classic, the Stars kept up a relentless pursuit of Bay passer Bart Starr and his receivers and ball-carriers.

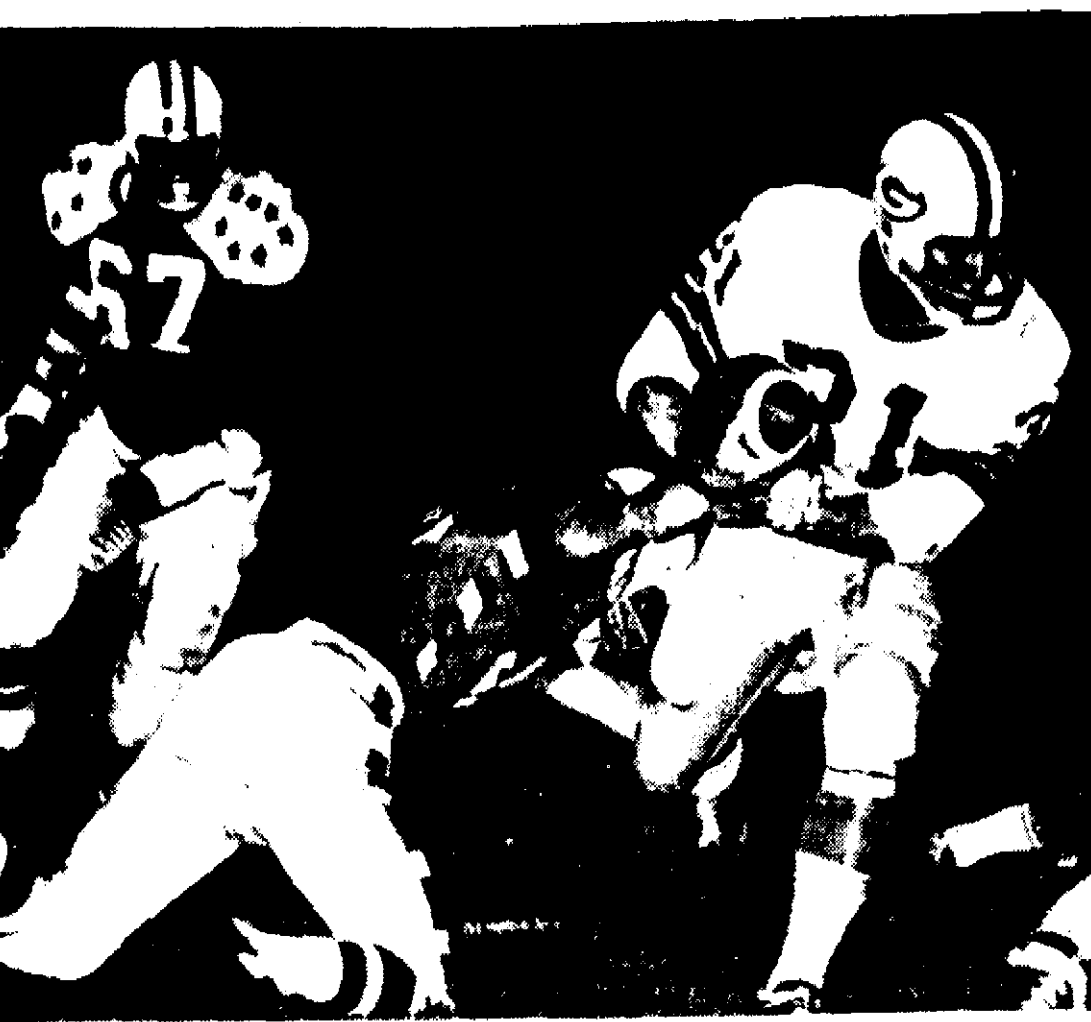

The All Stars intercepted one of Starr's passes to set up their first touchdown and a 10-7 lead early in the first quarter. And they recovered a fumble by Jim Taylor late in the third quarter when the Bays were just 14 yards away from a tie-breaking touchdown.

Kramer Misses
Adding to the Packers' misery were two missed field goals by Jerry Kramer from the 23-yard line, which kept the Pack from a 13-10 lead in the third frame, and from the 3-7, which would have given the Bays a 13-13 tie in the fourth period.

Taylor, bothered most of the week with a knee injury, scored both of the Pack's TD's — from the two in the first period for a 7-0 lead and from the same distance at the end. J. Kramer hit a field goal from the 21 in the second period, tying the score at 10-10.

Larry Ferguson rammed six yards for the Stars' first touchdown on the opening play of the second quarter. Then Bob Jencks' 20-yard field goal made it 10-7. Jencks broke a 10-10 tie with his second field goal from 32 yards

'I Can't Believe It,' Says VanderKelen After Triumph

Graham Has High Praise for Defensive Work of All Stars

BY LEE REMMEL

Post-Crescent News Service

CHICAGO — Along with an estimated 60 million others, a still bedazzled Ron VanderKelen couldn't believe it.

Leisurely toweling himself before his locker in the College All Stars' steamy dressing room at the wretched hour Friday night, the crew-cut principal in one of the sport's most celebrated Cinderella stories shook his head with something akin to awe and declared, "You never know against the Packers. They're so great they can come back at any time."

Reflecting briefly upon what he had just done to his old hometown, the engaging Preble native added soberly, "I can't believe it." Then, with a boyish grin, "But I'm sure glad I was a part of it." "It" being, of course, the All Stars' 20-17 surprise of the world champion Packers in multi-pillared Soldier's Field on a sultry August night.

And, all of chastened Packerland is well aware he played a rather large "part" maneuvering the All Stars to all 20 points, including a late 73-yard collaboration with erstwhile Wisconsin colleague Pat Richter that sealed the Pack's fate. Vandy thus capped a fairy tale that rivals the best efforts of the Brothers Grimm.

VanderKelen, who played a fleeting 30 seconds as a junior at Wisconsin, then sparked the Badgers in the Big Ten championship and a memorable comeback against USC in the Rose Bowl last New Year's Day, was borne to the All Star dressing room on the shoulders of some enthusiastic admirers in true fairy tale fashion. There he was besieged by sportswriters from across the land and a swarm of eager photographers, who immediately pressed him into posing with fellow heroes Richter and Bob Jencks. What had he thought, he was asked when a voice could be heard above the din, after an All Star fumble on the collegians' first offensive series led to the first score for the Packers?

"I knew if I wanted to play any more, I'd have to do something right away," he confessed. "And he did, driving the Stars 57 yards to the Packers' 14, from where Jencks booted a 21-yard field goal, the eventual winners' first breakthrough of the evening."

Had there been anything like a "revenge" motive, considering the Packers hadn't drafted him? "I wanted to win bad," Vandy admitted, "but there was nothing like that. I just wanted to play and do well. If it had been the Bears we were playing, I would have felt the same way. I just wanted to win, but I had my doubts until we got going."

Asserting "I didn't know I was going to start until I read it in the paper this morning," Vandy appended with a smile, "Coach Ott to Graham never told me personally. The first I heard about it from him was when he announced the starting lineup to the squad just before the game. A couple of the other guys and I kind of figured along about Wednesday, though, that I would be starting."

Vandy conceded he had to run for his life on occasion but felt "I had pretty good protection when they were red-dogging and that's the big thing, of course."

Despite this cooperation from his colleagues, VanderKelen noted, "Jordan (Hank) was on my back all night and Davis (Willie) was in there quite a bit. Yes, there definitely was more pressure on me tonight than there was in any college game."

Had he been bothered by some writers' comments that he was a "one-shot quarterback" in the wake of the All-American Bowl game in Buffalo? "Yes, I was," Vandy confessed. "I knew I had to prove myself in this game or I'd be shot."

The defense rests. An understandably elated Otto Graham, openly savoring the taste of victory after four straight defeats in the 30-year-old classic, said the VanderKelen-Richter "spectacular" emerged from a "first-down play."

"I sent it in for a first down," the former Cleveland Brown engineer imparted with a grin. "And, at that, Vandy almost changed the call in the huddle, the boys tell me. Thank God he didn't."

Had the fact VanderKelen is

Ruth Jessen Leads by 2 At Milwaukee

Fires 1 Over Par 73 on Rain-Soaked Course for 141

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Veteran pro Ruth Jessen held a two-stroke lead over traveling companions Kathy Whitworth and Marilyn Smith today as the $12,500 Milwaukee Women's Open Golf Tournament entered the third round on a tricky, testing course.

The 27-year-old Miss Jessen, a former University of Seattle star who turned pro in 1956, struggled to a one-over-par 73 for a 36-hole total of 141 Friday as scores soared at the North Shore Country Club.

Miss Whitworth, seeking a second straight tournament victory after winning the Wolverine Open last Monday, added a 73 to her opening 70 for a 143. Miss Smith, the second leading money winner this year, conquered par with a 71 after starting with a 72.

The 6,500-yard course didn't test most of the nation's top women golfers in the first round. However, heavy rain during the night and a thundershower just before the start of the second round turned the layout into a severe test.

Add to Troubles
Occasional gusts of wind added to troubles and the practice tees and greens were crowded long after play ended. One pro who spent more than two hours on the practice range was Mickey Wright, the top money winner the past three years.

Miss Wright, back on the circuit after a two-week vacation at her home in Dallas, continued to show the effects of the layoff. She explained her "timing is off" after carding a 78 for a 154 total.

The 34-year-old Miss Smith, former Kansas State champion, turned in the only sub par round of the second round. She needed just 31 putts, the last a 60-footer for a birdie three on the 405-yard 18th hole.

Two Equal Par

Par was equaled by only two others, National Open champion Mary Mills and Clifford Am. Creed. Their 72s left them with 148 totals.

Veteran Shirley Spink, who had an opening 70, took a 75 in the second round and was fourth in the halfway mark of the tournament which has a first prize of $2,000.

Training were Jack and Suzette with 146 and Sandra Hayne and Jackie Pung with 147s.

Fulton Cracks Homer

Menasha South Little Leaguers Tip Waupun, 1-0, in State Tourney

CHENEWA FALLS — Ron Schlem, struck out 14 in the first round of the state Little League Baseball tournament here Friday, after striking home run by Jack Fulton, home on base.

The Menashans were to meet Waupun, West 23, conquerors of the Superior National team in the first round, but they were the only afternoon's final. The winners will advance in tomorrow's play to Oshkosh, Iowa, next weekend.

Qualifying Races For ILYA Regatta Are Called Off

NEENAH — Both qualifying races of the ILYA Class X Invitational Championship Regatta were called off Friday because of the near gale proportions of the wind in the morning and storm warnings in the afternoon.

The odd and even fleets, after a delay of three hours, left the yacht basin at Riverside Park and tackled to their respective courses.

By the time the sturdy little 16-foot crafts had been jockeyed into race position, the Neenah police boat received storm warnings and the race was called off at 2:15 p.m.

It is hoped that two races can be held today, since ILYA rules call for two qualifying races and the championship race which is scheduled for 9 a.m. Sunday.

Wilson Reminds Boys Of Their Responsibility

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

"You'll all be winners if you give it 100 per cent," was Rob Wilson's advice Friday night to the six teams playing here in the state American Legion baseball tournament.

Speaking at the pre-tournament banquet in the Appleton Legion club, the former University of Wisconsin football star and American League catcher reminded the competitors that they have a responsibility to themselves, their communities, their country, their parents and their coaches.

The state tournament begins this afternoon at Good and Field and continues for the next four days.

Others who spoke briefly at the banquet included Mayor Clarence Mitchell, Department Commanders Jim Mueller and state Legion baseball commissioner Bob Reine.

Regional championship trophies were presented to Oshkosh Green and Kaukauna Bay, both at 4 p.m.

Ray, Kenneth, Marshfield, Eau Claire and Beloit.

Wilson told his audience that the average baseball player today is better than the average player years ago. He said today's players have a greater responsibility than ever.

"It takes mental discipline to succeed in athletics," Wilson emphasized. "If you can say 'I will' you will win. If you give it 100 per cent, that you're really trying, you will be coming out ahead."

Wilson cited Stan Musial as "My favorite player of all time." He called Musial "a real gentleman" in addition to being a great player.

The speaker also named Ted Williams the greatest player he's known and named Mickey Vernon the greatest of the present players. He also mentioned Earl Averett, the major league star from Waterloo, as a great player.

Jingo Looks Forward To New Attic Comedy

'Invitation to a March' Different From Ordinary Play, Many Problems Raised

BY JINGO
Tonight the Attic Theater presents its third production and asks its audience to do more work than it has for some time. Don Jones' production of "Invitation to a March" will pose the necessity of the audience making a moral judgment.

Even the characters are not defined in the usual manner. There are four women in the cast. Arthur Laurents, being a diplomat as well as a fine playwright, refused to say which of the four is the play's heroine. In life, he says, every woman considers herself a heroine. Why not in a play? Before entertainment became the chief, economic reason for theater, the stage was meant to be a catharsis. The important thing to achieve in a catharsis is to win complete involvement by the audience in the play.

Arthur, through his observation of the stage of his day, suggests that the terror and violence of tragedy are the best means to gather the audience into the feeling and action of the drama and hence achieve catharsis.

Tragedy is not necessarily the only means. Comedy with its group activity of laughter also is a good catharsis and that's the route Laurents and Jones take in "Invitation to a March."

Of course, there is no catharsis without an object. "Invitation to a March" poses several problems. They're all connected with our society's mores and they're all adult.

Major Question

In essence the major question posed is whether there is a privilege to accept life on individual terms, whether individual happiness can or should override traditionally accepted obligations.

Laurents doesn't answer the questions. He leaves the judgment up to the audience. Just as he fails to make clear who the heroine is. In fact, if the Attic audience is like other audiences who have experienced "Invitation to a March," it will find itself surprised how it chooses the play's heroine.

There are many reasons why a play is chosen for production. Perhaps not the least of these is the effect of the play on the players and director. "Invitation to a March" apparently saw the light of day for this reason.

Affects Actors, Too

Celeste Holm created the role of one of the women. In the January, 1952, "Theater Arts" magazine she spelled out what the play meant to her. "Performing this play was as rewarding an experience as I have ever known. Because Laurents' total acceptance of the characters, we, as actors, were able to use all of ourselves. Our esteem for Arthur Laurents grew with each performance, as our own inner responses became more available to ourselves and to each other. None of us who were a part of this will ever be quite as we were before."

When the actors are able to accept a play and learn to grow in it, more than half of the battle is won and when an audience

Recess Sidetracks Legislative Study Of County Boards

Motion by Sen. Lorge Cripples Bill Sponsored by Froehlich

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The abrupt decision of the legislature to recess for the summer sidetracked efforts of civic leaders from the Fox River Valley and other populous counties to set up a special session of the legislature in the study commission to draft a population district plan of county board representation.

The assembly had endorsed the bill sponsored by Assemblyman Harold Froehlich, R-Appleton, and others, but the senate, on the motion of Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, added crippling amendments.

Knowing that refusal of the lower house to concur in the changes would kill the bill, the sponsors arranged to have final action postponed until the fall session of the legislature in the hope of working out an agreement with Lorge.

Interim Studies

Meanwhile, however, both houses of the legislature approved a resolution directing interim studies by the joint Legislative Council of a number of problems, including population districting of county boards, so that there is some assurance that the subject will be examined during the legislative interim.

The hope of the sponsors of the county board reform plan was for the creation of a separate study group, in order to get more public attention and solicit more public support for a plan that failed to muster significant support on a direct vote in the assembly earlier this year.

The council members and staff will be concerned about many studies and investigations in preparation for the regular 1965 legislative session.

The original Froehlich proposal was to be shown in Walt Disney's "Pinochio." Children are requested to dress as their favorite story-book character. The movie will be open to other youngsters for a fee, but a special section on geographical area and according to be reserved for library club members.

Youngsters are to pick up tickets for a specific report and recommendation at the library prior to Aug. 9.
